Collection and usage attributes

|---|---|
| Guide for use: | The date the order ended should be used rather than the expected date of expiry. If it is not applicable to record a date (i.e. the order had not ended during the reference period), the relevant code for 'not applicable' should be recorded. |

Care and protection order (CPO) DSS Pilot (2010) Community Services (retired), Recorded 19/08/2011

Conditional obligation: Only applicable if an order has expired.
DSS specific information:

An order expiry date is when the order the child is under is no longer applicable. This can be for a number of reasons including:

The child is placed on another type of order
The child turns 18 years
The child moves interstate/overseas
The child dies
The child is no longer considered by the child protection authority to be at risk/in need of protection.

The order expiry date should be recorded for each separate care and protection order. In some circumstances, the date of expiry will be the same as the entry date from a previous episode, e.g. when a child moves directly from one level order to another level order.

If the order did not expire during the year, the date 11111111 should be used to indicate this.

If the date is unknown, the date 01011900 should be provided.
